

Food and Drink at the Ridgefield Library

We are very pleased to welcome the public to our new, expanded library building. In order to keep it fresh and clean, and in courtesy to all visitors, we have established the following guidelines.

Food may be consumed only in the Bossidy Commons on the Main Floor or in the Main Lobby.

Food is not permitted in Study Rooms, the Ellis Family Teen Center, the Randolph Board Room, the Lodewick Family Children's Library or other areas of the Library. This includes candy, chips and other snacks as well as more substantial food items.

Beverages in closed containers only are permitted in most areas of the Library, unless posted otherwise.

No beverages are allowed in the Donofrio Family Technology Center. In the event of a spill, please notify Library staff immediately so appropriate clean-up can be done before major damage to carpets takes place.

The Library does not maintain a café, vending machines or other location for sales of food and drink items.

We encourage visitors to patronize the many restaurants and other businesses in the downtown area that offer food and drink for onsite or take-out enjoyment. Library staff are happy to provide more information if you are unfamiliar with the available choices.
